History:

"Yums" and "Dark Phnx" met in college in the 90's, when they became friends, and roommates and "partners in crime". It was not long before they realized that when combined, their force was undeniably electric and hilarious. The two soon found that they could entertain themselves as well as others once they began philosophizing on any topic. And no topic was ever off limits. Their differing and sometimes unorthodox perspectives are what gave birth to "The Side Chicks", who offer their unique "side" to every subject.

Why listen?

It is important for women of a certain age to show that we are more than just caregivers. We still have opinions, dreams, hopes, and aspirations. We count. We have value. We matter!
